The census is a survey collecting information from every household in the country. It can be used to focus on specific people and places or to identify changes in a particular household over a period of time. It contains information such as the names of people living in a household, their ages, occupations, places of birth, their relationship to the head of household and the number of rooms in a dwelling.

Birth, marriage and death records not only identify and confirm births, marriages and deaths but also give extra information such as who witnessed marriages and people's occupations.

Local newspapers are a valuable source of information on the local area. They reflect the period in which they were written and provide details about local people and significant events.

Old maps or plans of the local area show what it was like in the past and allow you to identify how your local area has changed.
